GGGG Solution

This puzzle required solvers to recognize that the state capitals in the right hand columns mapped to the state abbreviations, which would then spell words. These words could be associated with descriptions/synonyms on the left. Connecting the dots together would result in 9 dots created where lines intersected, each of which corresponded to a letter. The letters, when anagrammed, would spell "studio 34."

–Cameron Henneberg